

St. Joseph's Healthcare System works with a wide range of community partners throughout northern New Jersey.

Working with faith-based groups, civic and social organizations, schools and universities, as well as professional groups, we provide a wide range of health information and services to your organization's members.

We design and develop the health education programs based on the needs and interests of your group, striving to accommodate your requests. For your convenience, courses and programs are offered on weekends and evenings, on-site at your organization.
